

Ladies and Gentlemen of the FCC,

I am writing with regards to DA 11-799 and WT Docket No. 11-65; the proposed mergers of AT&T with both T-Mobile, and Qualcomm. These mergers are in no way beneficial to the consumer, and should be immediately rejected. Allowing these mergers will further reduce the available phone providers to only 2; a duopoly. I can say this with certainty, because Verizon Wireless will gobble up Sprint within a short time of the AT&T merger; claiming that they must do it to stay competitive. We already have duopolies in Internet access that the FCC has done nothing to correct, and we do not need, yet another duopoly, in cell phone services. The little fish left behind the behemoth mergers; that will leave AT&T, and Verizon, as the primary providers; will have virtually no power to affect the market. The other regional providers will be fighting for the scraps.

As a current T-Mobile customer that has fled AT&T's lousy service; I am very afraid of my cellular service future should this merger go through. T-Mobile's customer service is far, far, better than the gulag that is AT&T's customer service. This merger, will in no way, increase competition, nor decrease prices. As already proven by the Internet Service Providers; the remaining duopoly of Verizon and AT&T will charge identical prices for identical services. AT&T have already lobbied the bar so high, that no new players will be able to come in and compete with them. We need far more cellular service providers than we have now, but they have all been gobbled up in mergers. Consumers do not benefit from these mergers; only the stock-holders of the 2 companies will gain. Please do not allow the mergers to T-Mobile, or Qualcomm go through. I cannot stress enough how the consumers will be the losers if this deal goes through.

AT&T is already implementing further restrictions on their "unlimited" services. How you let the cellular/Internet providers claim "unlimited" service that has limits is still puzzling to me. You cannot allow AT&T to eliminate a competitor in the market. They have all this money to buy a competitor, but no money to improve their own infrastructure. Step up and fight for the consumers for a change; instead of rubber-stamping another corporate merger. No amount of conditions will be enough to prevent the harm to consumers if these mergers are allowed to go through.

Thank you for your time.
